

Dear Friends,

Since we last communicated, the Joint Task Force has continued working together identifying areas of importance to our respective congregations. We have made significant progress in outlining a path for the months ahead and we feel very positive about the opportunity to create a new and vibrant Reform home in Baltimore, bringing together two historic congregations.

At this time, it is important to open up a broader dialogue in order to share the Task Force's thoughts and ideas and to receive valued input and guidance from our congregants.

We are planning a series of engagement activities beginning the morning of April 28th with each Congregation hosting a community Town Hall meeting. We will continue to communicate and provide additional information in the days and weeks leading up to the Town Hall.

Thank you for your ongoing trust and understanding and we look forward to hearing from you soon!
